REVISION COURSES

Lloyd's does not provide revision courses for the LLMIT exam, although a number of training companies are able to run scheduled public courses or bespoke solutions depending on your requirement. Lloyd's does not have a preferred supplier list for revision courses, and this non-exhaustive list of training course providers is for information purposes only.

Any purchases - the LLMIT itself, additional material, or revision classes - should be subject to your own local policies and procedures. Please contact your training manager or Learning & Development team to discuss and review local policy as appropriate before approaching any suppliers.
