Marianna

Manager, Legal Representatives and General Manager for Lloyd's in Greece

"My name is Marianna, and I'm General Manager for Lloyds in Greece, and I also manage Lloyd's European Part-Time Representatives.

"Lloyds is a fantastic place to work. It's constantly changing, the opportunities are constantly changing, it offers you different things at different times, and I haven't yet got bored. I've grown in what I've done, and the opportunities have always been presented to me, or have been available for me to take advantage of. It's great to be part of the Lloyd's community.

"I think one of the things that surprised me when I first joined was how dynamic the organisation is and how much energy there is when you come in to the building in the morning. You see the different underwriters and brokers coming in and out, doing business from all over the world and tackling fascinating risks.

"I also hadn't appreciated fully the position of Lloyd's within the City, and how its influence and expertise covers not just underwriting, but also broking, insurance intermediation, the law, loss adjusting, claims... it's really quite diverse. And within that there's a huge, huge variety of roles – from accountants to auditors.

"Lloyd's is a very social place. It's all about relationships, it's about people networks, and I think that's one of the nice things about it, and something that you don't get tired of. It's nice to work with people and to work somewhere personal relationships are so important, because it makes coming to work every day just a lot more fun.

"It is a fascinating place to work, and it's a fantastic opportunity for somebody to come who's just finished university, and is thinking about what they want to do, thinking perhaps of a career in the City. It's a place that can open a thousand doors for you."
